4 december 2019
Dorigny, Lausanne

The aim of the conference is to take stock of the current comparative migration law scholarship, and chart a path for future research. The conference will be looking at the uses and purposes of comparison in migration law and discuss different methodological approaches. It will bring together scholars in migration law, including refugee law, as well as scholars in comparative law and from other disciplines, to provide insights on how legal scholars can best value add to the type of work they are undertaking.

How to find us

By air

The closest airport is the Cointrin airport located in Geneva (approx. 60km from the Institute). From the Geneva-Cointrin airport, there is direct access to Lausanne's main railway station by train.

By train

Exit Lausanne's main railway station (CFF), cross the Place de la Gare and locate the metro station (Lausanne CFF). Take the metro m2 in the direction of Croisette, one stop to the station Lausanne-Flon. At the Lausanne-Flon metro station, transfer to the Metro m1. Take the Metro m1 to the station UNIL-Chamberonne (6 th stop) and follow the signs marked Institut suisse de droit comparé.

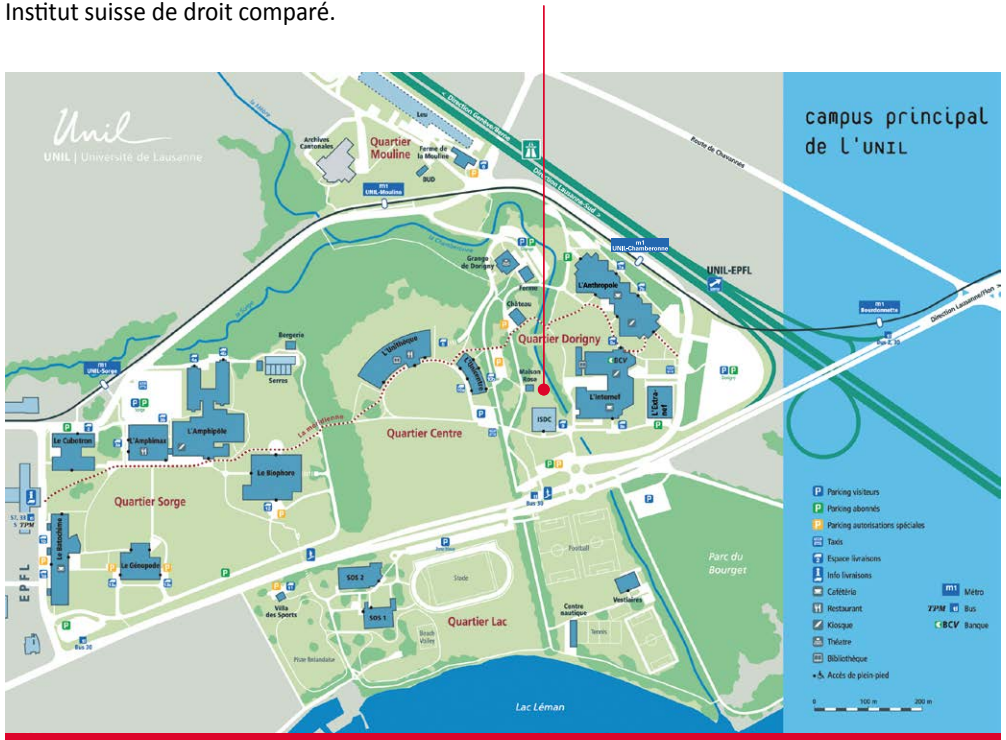

By car

From the A1 or A12/A9 motorways, follow signs for Lausanne-Sud, then take the exit Université-EPFL. Take the first exit at the roundabout (route de la Chamberonne). The car park (pay & display) of the Swiss Institute of Comparative law is to the left. Follow the signs for "Institut suisse de droit comparé".
